2027 LEW WALLACE HOOSIER AUTHOR FAIR

When: Saturday, November 27, 2027, 5 – 8 p.m.

Where: Montgomery County Community Foundation, located at 119 E. Main, Crawfordsville, IN.

This year marks the 11th annual Lew Wallace Hoosier Author Fair. The General Lew Wallace Study & Museum sponsors this event as part of Crawfordsville's Downtown Party Night Shop Small event. It's a fun evening with a 6 p.m. tree lighting, carriage rides, food trucks, shopping, and more.

Authors must currently live in Indiana or have spent formative years in Indiana.

There is no fee to participate. We provide tables and chairs. Banners and table decorations are allowed, subject to space availability. Please note, you may be sharing a 12-foot table. We will try to accommodate authors who need an entire table, but space is limited.

Authors are welcome to bring products that tie into their writing. In the past, authors have brought t-shirts, stickers, journals, maps, and other items for sale or to give away.

Please keep in mind that the author’s fair takes place during the dinner hour. Authors are welcome to bring meals or order meal delivery and should plan accordingly. Coffee, water, and light refreshments will be provided.
